

THE RAYID MODEL A GUIDE TO PERSONALITY and RELATIONSHIPS #2

The Rayid Model is a unique system for identifying genetic behavioral, communication and relationship patterns according to the structural constitution of the iris of the eye. The essential core of the personality is composed of three primary parts: MENTAL, EMOTIONAL and PHYSICAL. These are expressed through Auditory,

Visual and Kinesthetic modes of communication. Everyone possesses and utilizes all three, the iris reveals which are dominant. Each unique combination of traits outlined below determines how the personality is manifested and relationships are formed. Look within, compare and discover "What the Eyes Reveal."

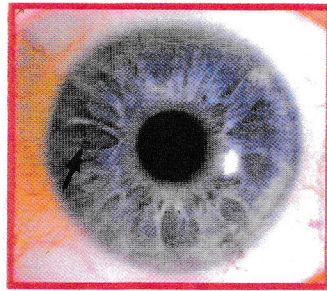

MENTAL TYPE

JEWEL

Dot-like pigments in the iris indicate a thinking, intellectual person. Mental types direct their perceptions and feelings through internal thought and analysis. They tend to control themselves, situations and other people. Precise verbal communicators, they show little emotion and use few, pointed gestures. Often intense, these deliberate, quietly driven people enjoy setting and obtaining goals. Combining well defined views, an attention to detail, and a commanding presence they excel as leaders, teachers and scientists. Mental types learn visually. Needing release, they attract emotional types for long-term relationships.

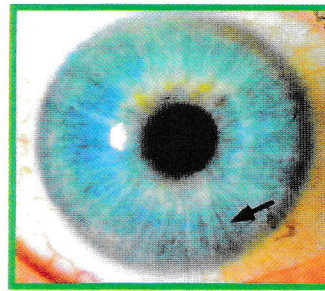

EMOTIONAL TYPE

FLOWER

Distinctly curved or rounded openings in the iris identify an emotional type person. Feeling oriented, with passion, fire and grace they experience life thru the sensitivities of the heart. Flexible spontaneous and changeable they flow easily with social situations. Superior visual communicators, animated and expressive, they generate excitement and enjoy being on display. Living for the moment, their interest and enthusiasm is often short-lived. Lovers of creative abundance, they excel as artists, musicians and engineers. Emotional types learn auditorily and needing control, are attracted to mental types for long-term relationships.

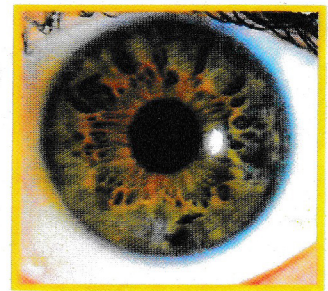

KINESTHETIC TYPE

STREAM

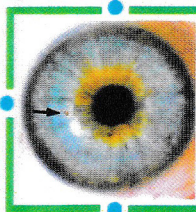

A uniform fiber structure with subtle variations or streaks of color suggests a kinesthetic type personality. These physical people perceive and integrate life thru the sensory experience of their bodies. With true empathy, they nurture and balance others. Intuitive, yet grounded, they mediate and unify extremes. Excessive sensitivity can lead to feeling helplessly overwhelmed. Communicating with touch/movement, they are natural in athletics, dance, health care and public service. Kinesthetic types learn auditorily/visually/imitation. Needing expansiveness, they attract extremists in long-term relationships.

EXTREMIST TYPE

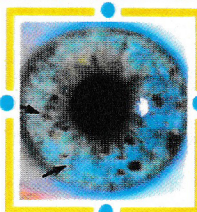

SHAKER

Dot-like pigments and rounded openings indicate an extremist type nature. Unifying mental/emotional traits and communication modes, these dynamic, progressive people venture beyond the limits of conventional thought and action. At the forefront of change and innovation, they challenge life with abandon and zeal, often attracting ridicule. Driven to achieve yet ungrounded they experience cycles of great success and failure. Frequently devoted to a cause and adventurous, they excel as inventors, motivators and explorers. Learning thru touch/movement, needing equilibrium, they are attracted to kinesthetic types for long-term relationships.

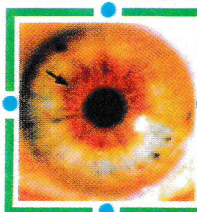

Stream/Jewel

A kinesthetic type structure with small or very few dot-like pigments increases their mental tendencies. Sensitive and alert, these clear thinkers lead the way to balance and stability. Showing genuine concern, with caring words and controlled body language they extend their presence embracing all with a sense of security. Learning to allow eases the frustration of carrying the mental burdens of others. RA - Shaker/flower

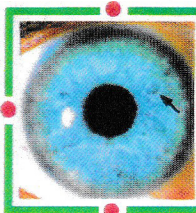

Shaker/Jewel

An extremist type structure with predominantly dot-like pigments accents their mental characteristics. Tenacious, individualistic, self-reliant and strong-willed these synergistic communicators are leaders of progressive thought or directed action. Dealing responsibility, and staying grounded while surrendering to their inner guidance aids in the realization of the goals they crave. RA - Stream/flower

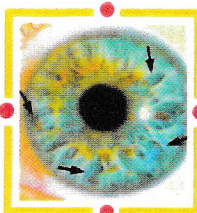

Inner-Directed

A concentrated band of color encircling the pupil signifies an introspective nature. Sensitive, reserved and observant they internalize their thoughts and emotions. Wise, tolerant and uncaresarding they often hide their true feelings to avoid conflict. Without the release of action and open, honest communication they can become restless or stagnant. RA - Learning expressiveness, they attract outer-directed types.

Stream/Flower

A kinesthetic type with a few curved openings or wavy fibers enhances the emotional traits of the stream personality. Physically vital, compassionate and responsive, they circulate with quiet ease bringing comfort or stimulation. Reaching out with tenderhearted calm, they can touch others deeply just with their presence. Learning detachment alleviates the confusion or self-doubt in over-empathizing with others. RA - Shaker/Jewel

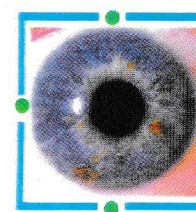

Shaker/Flower

An extremist type structure with predominantly rounded openings amplifies their emotional tendencies. With flashy imagination, radical insight and endless energy they lead the march of progress or conscience. Dynamic communicators, demonstrative and charismatic they inspire groups with visionary fervor. To exist in the heart of passion yet maintain poise is the ultimate dilemma and grandest reward. RA - Stream/Jewel

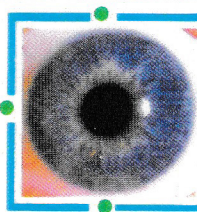

Outer-Directed

The absence of concentrated color and a distinct ridge encircling the pupil implies an achievement-oriented personality. Outgoing, expressive and honest they externalize their thoughts words and emotions. Active and productive, but impatient and compulsive, they often overextend themselves. RA - Learning introspection and self-restraint, they are attracted to inner-directed types in mate relationships.

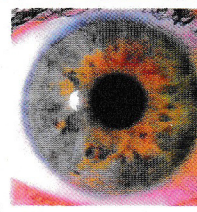

Left-Brain Dominant

A majority of traits in the right iris is regarded as left-brain dominance. Logical, self-oriented and practical they ask questions, have material goals and prefer to be organized. They normally have greater rapport with father and sleep with the right cheek down. When interlacing their fingers the left thumb is on top. Holding traditional values they add stability to a social system. Needing to learn flexibility and broad-mindedness they attract right-brain types in mate relationships.

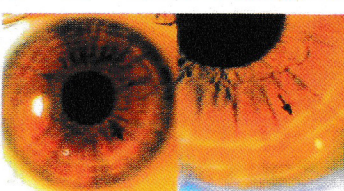

Right-Brain Dominant

A majority of traits in the left iris is regarded as right-brain dominance. Social agreeable and creative they are informal and tend to be cluttered. They usually have a closer relationship with mother, and sleep with the left cheek down. When interlacing their fingers the right thumb is on top. Future-oriented and philosophical, they add originality and spirit to any endeavor. Needing to learn practicality and focus, they are attracted to left-brain dominants in mate relationships.

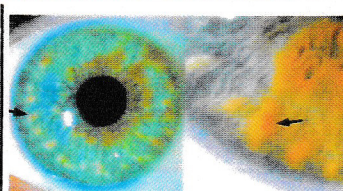

Switching Dominance

A structure dominant to one eye with more evident color in the top quadrant of the opposite eye indicates a probable switch pattern. They appear one side dominant yet manifest behavior like the other. This crossing over can result from mental/emotional/physical pain or trauma as a defense to further suffering. In this case, the suppression of one's natural tendencies can bring balance and integration, or create confusion, frustration or irrationality when unresolved. True self-knowing and forgiveness reign as ultimate healers. RA - Switch

Ring of Accomplishment

Concentric ridges encircling the pupil signify an accomplishment-oriented nature. Hyper-achievers, these frenetic people urgently need to be continuously occupied. Possessed by revolving mental chatter, they live in constant anxiousness. They achieve most by channeling their restless energy to resolute on thru specific action.

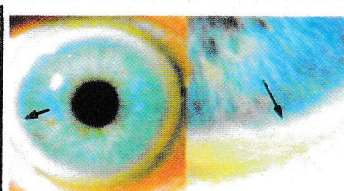

Ring of Harmony

A series of white/yellow dots toward the outside of the iris signifies high ideals about social and environmental issues. Reactive to disorder, they strive to influence the maintenance of balance. Self-denial and unvoiced expectations of others can result in cynicism, disappointment and isolation. Singing and laughter are prime therapies.

Ring of Purpose

A blue or dark ring at the periphery of the iris indicates a sense of special purpose. Constantly searching for their mission in life thru diligence and commitment they are capable of anything. Unclear how to achieve their objective and focus their action they can experience indecisiveness or stagnation.

Ring of Determination

A continuous white band at the periphery of the iris identifies a determined or decisive nature. Clear about the virtue of their beliefs they possess strong opinions and the skills to accomplish their objectives. Often rigidly single-minded they learn flexibility and acceptance by developing inner spiritual certainty.
